

Client Consultation

- Friday, 4/3/2026, 4:00pm
- In person in the Gaming Club Room with the President, Jack Henderson, and the Vice President, Sam Cerullo
- Summary of key points discussed including:
 - Visually looks very good, aligned with the vision the club has for the site
 - API functionality could use a little work, as right now event urls have to be hard coded for the site to fetch their data.
 - Like the general direction the site is taking, especially the feedback form as these can be used to get a better understanding of what club members want to see from us.
 - Liked the database implementation for events making for easy updating of event specifications and information.
 - Talked gameplan for the future, general gameplan (while working within the scope of the assignments) is to add the photo gallery and tweak the API call to more easily get more events without manually adding them.
- A list of changes or refinements to be made based on the discussion.
 - Nothing immediate!
 - Look into reworking the API functionality (looked into it, query tournaments run by specific user, start making the brackets from a designated URI Gaming Club Account, that would likely start next semester)
 - Implement photo gallery

Reflection, Changes Made and Future Plans

- What were the most significant changes made based on feedback? Provide before-and-after comparisons (screenshots, descriptions, or code snippets).

- No immediate changes were made following this consultation. Everything that the client wanted added is something that is in the works and will be implemented later down the road. This is mostly because I've been showing them the site throughout my work and have been receiving little feedback here and there on the general approach. I find this approach to be much better than working on my own and then showing a bunch of new stuff all at once with potential issues.
- How did the feedback improve the overall user experience and alignment with client goals?
 - Feedback has been helping me align my work with the E-Board's vision for the site. Through consistent communication throughout the development of the site I've been able to make a site that will be very helpful for both club members and the E-Board.
- Were there any suggestions you decided not to implement? Why?
 - I'm not updating the Start.gg API integration for this submission as I need to do more research on how exactly it works and will not have time
- Roadmap:
 - Update Start.gg api integration
 - Add photo gallery
